

Explore Post-Hopkins Interests

Your professional journey begins with exploring your personal interests, figuring out how those line up with your major, and considering different jobs or post-grad options. Every student's first step should be to sign into Handshake, our online career portal. Then, use these tools to help you build a plan.

Online Tools

➤ OneHop

OneHop is Johns Hopkins' mentoring platform. It connects students with almost 1,000 hand-picked alumni who are actively offering mentoring opportunities representing every Johns Hopkins school and many industries, locations, and levels of expertise. Through OneHop, each JHU student can develop their own team of advisers, alumni, and peers that provide support and guidance as they explore their potential opportunities. All current JHU students can access OneHop with their JHED ID.

- Search for and message alumni based on location, major, industry and what you need help with
- Request web-based "flash mentoring" or quick meetings to learn from their experience
- Start a long-term mentorship
- Use resources to get the most out of your mentor partnership
- Ask and answer discussion questions about careers and life exploration

➤ What Can I Do With This Major?

Whether you're exploring majors or searching for information about your chosen field, this website will help. Learn typical career areas and types of employers that hire in these fields, as well as strategies to make you a more marketable candidate. Continue your research through the websites provided.

➤ GoinGlobal

An international, country-specific, online system to support relocation, career transition, global job searches & career development as well as alternative opportunities for Johns Hopkins University students.

➤ Vault Guides

Research jobs paths, companies, industries and more. Vault has been gathering unbiased, insider information and data about companies, industries and specific jobs for more than 12 years. Users must create a personal account to access Vault. Find dozens of industry specific Vault Guides on the resources pages here.

Additional Resources

Take assessments to find suggested professions or, if you already know the profession you want, read about the education, experiences, and skills you need to attain the career you want.

➤ O\*Net

O*Net lets you explore detailed profiles on occupations within a given industry.

➤ Occupational Outlook Handbook

Published by the US Department of Labor, the Occupational Outlook Handbook gives you an overview of different fields and occupations by required education level, median pay, and sector growth rate.

➤ Career One Stop

CareerOneStop gives wages, employment trends, skills needed, etc. for any occupation.

➤ Becomeopedia

Becomeopedia explains the education requirements, career path, salary, and projected job growth for each position.

➤ Big Future

The College Board's career exploration website focuses on helping students choose a major based on their interests.

➤ Educating Engineers and Discover Engineering

Explore careers in STEM and Engineering.

➤ Computer Science Online

Explore careers in computer science and related fields.

➤ Public Health Online and PublicHealth.org

Explore careers in public health.

➤ Guide to Public Service

Explore public service careers.